

Banned Books Week Virtual Read-Out

Mariko Kershaw | Windward Community College Library | kershaw@hawaii.edu

Introduction

In 2015, Windward Community College (WCC) participated in the American Library Association Banned Books Read-Out for the first time. An English instructor created the course English 271: Intro to Literature: Banned Books and coordinated with the presenter to hold the read-out. Based on the positive feedback in 2015, the read-out was held again in 2016.

Purpose

- Promote intellectual freedom and the First Amendment
- Collaborate with and support instructors
- Provide patrons with library programming

Promotion

- Library Facebook event
- WCC faculty-staff and student listserv announcements
- Official Banned Books Week online calendar
- Posters and flyers distributed throughout campus
- Library display cases stocked with banned books
- Bookmarks at circulation desk
- 2015 WCC student newspaper article

Discussion

2015 challenge: Slow turnaround for YouTube videos.
Solution: Presenter recorded and edited videos in 2016.

2016 challenge: Decreased attendance (ENG 271 not offered).
Potential solution: More outreach and advertising in 2017.
